McCarthy Takes Early Lead Over Bobby in Oregon

LBJ Submits to Congress Five-Point Trade Program

Washington (AP) — President Johnson submitted to Congress Tuesday a five-point program reaffirming his administration's dedication to freer trade and calling for development of a long-range policy to guide trade expansion to the 1970's.

Left unanswered, however, was the administration's intent, or lack of it, to propose some sort of tax rebate for exporters and a border tax on imports.

In a special message to Congress, Johnson again opposed the wide variety of import quota bills pending in Congress but said nothing about a possible border tax to help stem the dollar drain.

U.S. officials said the nation's trading partners are still considering the entire range of border tax problems.

The administration's plans, if any, for a border tax undoubtedly will come up when the House Ways and Means Committee opens trade hearings on June 4.

It was Johnson who first raised the possibility of recommending a border tax and export rebates in his special New Year's statement when he outlined the administration's balance of payments program.

He recommended this five point program for adoption this year:

1. Extend through June 30, 1970, the president's authority to negotiate tariff cuts as specific circumstances warrant.

2. Eliminate the American selling price on some chemical imports which produces a higher tariff. This bases the tariff on American prices rather than the cost of the product to the U.S. importer.

3. Approve a specific appropriation to cover the U.S. share of expenses in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, the group which negotiated the Kennedy Round tariff cuts.

4. Set up a system of aid for industry and workers hurt by increased imports stemming from those tariff cuts. It would be based on aid now available under the agreement between the United States and Canada which ended auto tariffs at the manufacturer's level.

5. Extend aid to U.S. industry and workers under the American Canadian agreement for three more years through June 30, 1971.

The GOP group urged revision of both the organizational structure and the division of authority to restore what it said is lost capacity of the military to meet crises, either current or potential.

The findings and recommendations were the concluding section of a report by a task force on national security headed by former Secretaries of Defense Neil H. McElroy and Thomas S. Gates Jr.

The report was adopted by the Coordinating Committee, an over-all group which brings together Republican elements from Congress through statehouses and other areas for formulation of party stands.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy was surrounded by throngs in Oregon to such an extent that he had to walk from a noon-hour rally to his hotel some six blocks away when the jam proved too heavy for his car to get to him. He emerged Tuesday the apparent victor in the primary, according to early returns.

French Education Minister Resigns; Open Rift in Government Develops

PARIS (AP) — The first open rift in the French government developed Tuesday, paralyzing strikes spread, and the No. 1 student agitator, "Danny the Red," slipped back from Germany in disguise to challenge Gaullist authority again.

Under pressure of violence, disorders and work stoppages, Education Minister Alain Peyrefitte, 42, resigned. He was long a target of university students and teachers.

Prime Minister Georges Pompidou announced he is taking over the education ministry and in another maneuver to carry France through its disabling crisis said he will dip into the $6-billion French gold and foreign currency reserves.

—Daniel Cohn-Bendit, 23, exiled from France and expelled on a previous attempt to return, showed up with his red hair dyed black and held a news conference at his old stamping ground, the Sorbonne. He told questioners: "There will be continuous violence as long as we live in a capitalist society. That will provide the violence . . . In no case must we give up the streets to police." The government last weekend ordered a stop to street demonstrations and force to stop them. Police made no effort to arrest him.

—Workers at France's major nuclear plant, Pierrelatte, voted 55 per cent to generalize a strike that had previously affected only a few employees. This may set back a scheduled test of France's first hydrogen bomb in the Pacific in the summer.

They stop work Wednesday, joining millions of other idling French workers.

—The French news agency—Agence France Presse—AFP—personnel voted to strike and said their demands would be made known later. Communications in France, except for those of world wide news agencies and a few others, were virtually at a standstill.

Johnson asked for realism in Paris peace talks.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson urged Hanoi Tuesday to substitute constructive work toward peace for "fantasy and propaganda" at the Paris conference table.

Johnson pledged at a news conference that the United States will "continue patiently to see whether the Paris talks shall yield anything in the way of constructive results."

But so far, he said, "The other side has been using the occasion of these talks for obviously very wide-ranging propaganda."

Nixon Triumphs Over Reagan and Rockefeller

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, hitting the comeback trail after two defeats, surged into a surprising lead over Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in early returns from Oregon's Democratic presidential primary Tuesday.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon walked away with the Republican contest. He left California Gov. Ronald Reagan, on the ballot, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a write-in beneficiary, far behind. NBC projected a Nixon victory with 70 per cent of the vote.

If McCarthy could maintain the pace he was setting in the partial, scattered returns, he would deal a damaging blow to Kennedy's effort to establish by primary victories the image of a winner he needs to gain the party nomination.

As the tabulations mounted, the trend indicated that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, a top contender for the nomination, was falling to roll up a significant percentage of the vote by proxy and by write-ins.

It was generally agreed that votes for President Johnson, who quit contention too late to get his name off the ballot, could be listed as backing Humphrey.

The partial count from 620 of the state's 2,599 precincts gave: McCarthy 23,349, or 45 per cent; Kennedy 18,793, 36 per cent; Johnson 7,107, 14 per cent; Humphrey (write-in) 2,242, 4 per cent.

In 624 precincts, the Republican total was: Nixon 33,073, or 73 per cent; Reagan 9,963, or 22 per cent; Rockefeller (write-in) 2,405 5 per cent.

Florida Backs Favorite Son, Sen. Smathers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida Democrats handed most of their 63 convention seats Tuesday to a favorite son slate headed by retiring Sen. George Smathers, and nominated former Gov. LeRoy Collins for Smathers' Senate seat.

Smathers' slate, which leans toward the candidacy of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, won the state's 37 at-large seats and captured at least 14 of the 24 congressional district seats.

A slate pledged to Sen. Eugene McCarthy took four seats and stood a chance of winning two more as it polled 30 per cent of the statewide vote. With more than three-fourths of the vote counted, Smathers' slate had 47 per cent of the vote and an unpledged slate headed by former State Sen. Scott Kelly took 22 per cent.

Man Arrested

The arrest Tuesday of a resident of Riverside Hotel was the first of several expected in a borough police effort to crack down on abandoned vehicles in the community.

Charged was Frank E. Vigorito who paid the required $100 fine and costs under Section 1042, which prohibits vehicles from being left along any highway or property in excess of 30 days. Vehicles left at scrap or junk yards or parked for construction or maintenance of public utility facilities are not considered abandoned.

Default of payment of the fine imposed, police said, means a maximum jail sentence of 20 days.

Chief police clerk James Lodig said the department is receiving calls almost daily in regard to such vehicles and that several warrants have already been issued.

The strike which commenced on May 20th between the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and their agents has entered its ninth day.

The Jamestown local of the Insurance Workers Union has been informed that a federal mediator is attempting to persuade Metropolitan to return to Washington, D.C., and begin negotiations with the union to bring the nationwide strike to an early end.

BROOMALL, Pa. (AP)—The missing submarine Scorpion surfaced near Crete in the eastern Mediterranean May 10 and was met by a Russian destroyer. It rode "alongside 100 feet away with every gun trained" on it, a member of the crew wrote his mother.

The letter said American fighter planes "came to our aid." Mrs. Salvatore A. Violett, a registered nurse, said Tuesday she received the letter from her son, torpedoman 3.C. Robert P. Violett, on May 18.

"It was the last I heard from him," she said, sobbing gently as she spoke on the telephone. "He said the Scorpion was due to arrive in Norfolk about noon on May 25."

The 21-year-old sailor's letter, dated May 16, reported the nuclear-powered sub then was "about 50 miles west of the

Safe Driving Practices Urged for Holiday Weekend

HARRISBURG—Pennsylvania motorists were urged this week to meet their responsibilities in preventing a needless death toll over the Memorial Day weekend by obeying traffic regulations and refraining from taking needless chances.

The appeal was issued by Harry H. Brainerd, State Commissioner of Traffic Safety, as summer's first long holiday weekend approaches.

"Last year, 26 persons were killed in traffic accidents over the 102-hour holiday weekend," Commissioner Brainerd reported.

Comparing 1966 and 1967 the Commissioner pointed out that, "34 persons were killed in 1966 over the 78-hour Memorial Day period. The comparable holiday weekend in 1967 showed a marked improvement over the year before; however, even this 1967 death toll can be lowered considerably if motorists will drive with the proper respect for our laws and with consideration for the rights of others."

The holiday death count will begin at 6 p.m. Wednesday, May 29, and extend to midnight Sunday, June 2nd.

In his appeal to motorists to exercise the utmost caution during the holiday weekend ahead, Commissioner Brainerd declared that the heavier traffic and more congested highways which can be expected make it imperative that they do so.

He suggested that motorists planning a long trip allow ample time to arrive at their destination and to return home in order to avoid any temptation to exceed legal speed limits or to take unnecessary chances.

The safety official also offered the following suggestions: "Check tires, brakes, windshield wipers and lights before starting on a trip; stop often to take a 'break' from the heavy traffic you can expect to encounter; don't allow yourself to become exasperated when traffic becomes congested; be on a constant lookout for accident causing situations, and show courtesy to other drivers."

"If every motorist would adhere to these principles of safe driving," Brainerd concluded, "accidents and fatalities on Pennsylvania highways could be kept to an absolute minimum during the Memorial Day weekend."

The arrest Monday by Sheriff D. E. Allen Jr. of two persons resulted in the recovery of about $500 worth of jewelry stolen from John's Jewelry Store at 114 Main st., Youngsville early Saturday morning.

Charges were filed before Peace Justice Fred Berry Monday against Dennis L. Jordan, 21, RD 1, Youngsville and Lynn S. Collin, 17, of 1916 Pennsylvania ave. E., Warren. The latter, the sheriff said, although a juvenile, was charged as an adult. Both were remanded to Warren County jail in default of bail.

Sheriff Allen stated that at 2:50 a.m. Saturday, Patrolman Rex Agnew of the Youngsville police department observed two men running from the direction of the jewelry store.

Investigation revealed the store had been burglarized. At this time, police said, the two suspects fled the scene in a vehicle that had been parked back of Pennsylvania Bank & Trust Company in Youngsville.

A tentative identification of the vehicle and its possible occupants was made by Agnew, according to the sheriff.

Further investigation by the sheriff's office and Youngsville officer Donald L. Conner placed the two accused in Youngsville both before and after the time of the burglary in a vehicle answering the description of the one used in the crime.

Allen said fingerprints taken from the jewelry display cases, recovered later, identified one of the accused, who, upon becoming aware of his possible arrest contacted the victim through anonymous phone calls attempting to return the stolen merchandise.

Both were arrested by the sheriff's office on charges filed before Berry by Allen.

straits of Gibraltar between Spain and Africa on the way to the United States."

He said he was getting a chance to write the letter because relatives of two of the crew had died—"the radio message . . . didn't say if it was wives or children"—and Cmdr. Francis Slattery "has made arrangements for them to be transferred at sea and delivered by air to Norfolk. Any mail we have is going out aloft."

That was how Violett wrote he was able to get off letters written May 10 and again May 16.

The first letter reported "ever since we have left Naples, we have been circling the Isle of Crete. I can't tell you why. All I can say is that for 13 days we have been going around it again and again."

The May 10 letter also told Mrs. Violett that at 3 that afternoon "we are supposed to transfer classified messages by a helicopter off a carrier. It should prove to be interesting. It will be nice to see the sun again."

The May 16 letter reported what happened off Crete.

"Boy was that an exciting day," wrote Violett. "When we surfaced to meet the helicopter 'Ivan' was there. Also you can imagine how helpless you feel when you get to the bridge and see a Russian destroyer riding alongside 100 feet away with every gun trained on you."

"I can't say much about this incident other than United States fighters came to our aid. It took us two days to get rid of that big tin can. Will tell you more when I see you."

Violett is one of seven Pennsylvanians among the Scorpion's 99-member crew. His mother said he enlisted in the Navy in April 1966.

Others from Pennsylvania aboard the sub are:

Seaman Ronald A. Frank of Pittsburgh, sonar technician submarine 3, C. Michael E. Henry of Montrose, Storekeeper 1, C. Larry L. Hess of Chambersburg, machinist mate fireman Dennis Charles Knapp of Claysville R. D. 1, machinist mate fireman Robert W. Watson of Tyrone, and fire control technician William Fennick of Butler.

Violett's last letter noted that on the 16th, "It has been 20 days since we've been in port. Believe me, being inside this sardine can get monotonous." He wrote his mother he'd be in Norfolk May 25, about noon, and "hope to make home the following weekend...so I'll say goodbye. Take care and see you in two weeks."

Mrs. Violett, a private duty nurse at Bryn Mawr Hospital in suburban Philadelphia, said "I'm praying, I'm praying he will make it."

She said the Navy had called her shortly after midnight Tuesday and again at 10 a. m. "But nothing has been encouraging," she added.

Henry, 23, joined the Navy after being graduated from Montrose High in 1962. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Henry, said he was assigned to the Scorpion shortly after finishing his training.

Fennick has a wife, Eileen, and a 6-month-old son living near the Norfolk naval base. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fennick, live in Butler.

Mrs. Dorothy Reese, mother of Watson, said "I'm not giving up hope."

She said she had received a letter from her son saying the sub was due back on May 24 and promised: "I'll call you the minute I hit port."

"I waited all weekend," said Mrs. Reese. "I didn't go anywhere."

Knapp's father, Charles, also was hopeful.

"We think he'll be home," he said, and noted that the assignment on the Scorpion was the 22-year-old machinist mate's first sea cruise.

"His letters seemed more cheerful," said the elder Knapp. "He seemed a little discouraged in school, but he perked up when he got out to sea."

"He wrote he was with a good crew," Knapp added.

Hess's wife waited at Norfolk Tuesday, and was joined there by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Weaverling of Chambersburg.

Hess's parents live in Waynesboro, where the 22-year-old sailor graduated from high school in 1963 and joined the Navy shortly afterward.

Mrs. Ralph Henry, of Montrose, Pa., mother of Submarine Sonar Technician 3, C. Michael E. Henry, said this was to be her son's last duty with the Scorpion.

Her son, she said, had signed up for 10 months more training at Key West, Fla., to begin immediately after the Scorpion was to have put into port this week.

"The last time we got a letter from him was when they were in Italy," she said.

London Stock Exchange Remains Male Bastion

(c) N.Y. Times News Service LONDON—The London Stock Exchange is to remain a male bastion after all.

Tuesday the all-male membership of the exchange unexpectedly defied the recommendations of exchange executives and overwhelmingly defeated a resolution that would have let women apply for admission to the trading floor.

With 60.8 per cent of members balloting, the vote was 67.3 per cent opposed and 32.7 per cent in favor. A majority was required for approval of the proposal.

Miss Murial Bailey, a high official at the brokerage firm of James Flower & Co., had planned to file her application in expectation that the doors would be opened to women.

"I'm absolutely furious," she said when she learned the results of the vote.

"It is a silly and short-sighted decision," she said, "it's nothing but a club that's got together to keep us out."

"Five years more experience and knowledge of the profession than some of the young men who become members of the exchange. Women are investing increasingly, and they often prefer to talk to a woman about investment problems."

An official of the National Federation of Professional Business and Professional Women's Clubs said:

Directories Out

Distribution of the new Bell Telephone directory for the Warren area will begin today. Bob Dilks, local manager for the telephone company, said approximately 23,435 copies will be distributed, an increase of some 1,000 over last year.

The new directory contains about 16,200 alphabetical listings—an increase over the 1967 issue.

Dilks said the cover of the directory "illustrates Bell people at both their regular jobs and in after-hours and weekend community service projects which are traditional with telephone people."

Subscribers in the following exchanges will be listed: Endavor, Grand Valley, Russell, Sheffield, Sugar Grove, Tidouete, Tionesta, Warren and Youngsville.

Jury Finds

For Plaintiff

A civil jury on Tuesday found for the plaintiff in a trespass case.

Mildred M. Jackson, of 215 Buchanan st., Warren, had filed the suit against Willard M. Briggs and Josephine T. Briggs and against the borough of Warren. In the case against the borough, however, the jury found for the borough and against the plaintiff but awarded Mildred Jackson $400 for medical bills incurred when she suffered a fall in front of the Briggs' residence on Jefferson st. January 5.

Mrs. Jackson testified she was walking downtown when she slipped and fell on the icy, snow covered sidewalk and sustained a broken right arm.

Robert L. Wolfe served as defense attorney with Robert J. Healy, attorney for the defendants.

Lawrence R. Whitten was jury foreman.

Stocks Advance; Trading Heavy

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved up briskly on heavy volume Tuesday in a session enlivened by developments in issues affected by special situations.

The advance was the best in recent weeks and pulled the market out of its recent doldrums.

Trading was heavy, and the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape was three minutes late in reporting floor transactions at the close.

Brokers said there were few developments to influence the market but that a favorable factor might have been a report that France would have to dip into its gold and currency reserves because of its current economic crisis.

In an unusual development, trading in American Telephone, the most widely held stock, was halted on the New York Stock Exchange because of an influx of orders.

The halt came after a report that the Justice Department was taking a new look at the 1956 settlement of its civil anti-trust suit against AT&T and its manufacturing subsidiaries. Western Electric Co. A.T.&T. closed at 48 1/2, up 1/2, after falling to 48 1/8 Monday, its lowest price since 1960.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials advanced 5.18 to 896.78, its biggest gain since May 7. The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 2.6 to 331.1, its sharpest advance since April 11, with industrials up 2.6, rails up 3.2, and utilities unchanged.

Of 1,529 issues traded, 753 rose and 576 fell. There were 135 new 1968 highs and 25 new lows.

NYSE volume expanded to 13.85 million shares from 12.73 million Monday.

Among the 15 most-active issues, 8 advanced, 6 declined and Glen Alden was unchanged.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Employees Receive Benefits

Employees at the Montgomery Ward retail store at Warren received approximately $18,924.92 under the company's benefit program during 1967, it was announced Tuesday by M.N. Linman, store manager.

Linman disclosed the amount during the annual "Benefit Statement Day" meeting with employees as he distributed to each employee a personalized statement showing the employee's share of Ward's benefit program. Wards paid $60,000,000 in benefits to its employees last year. Company employees received $10 million in group insurance benefit payments alone.

The personalized statements showed each employee the value of his share in the Employee's Savings Plan and an estimate of his expected annual retirement income starting at age 65.

The company contributed 3 percent more to the savings plan last year because of an increase in profits during 1967. Linman noted that improvements in benefits are the direct result of each employee's continuing effort to improve the quality of Ward's service to customers.

Benefit Statement Day meetings were held at Ward's 475 retail stores and 719 catalog stores across the country.

EASY DOES IT
LIHUE, Kauai, Hawaii (AP)—Drivers who like to "dig out" from a stop face a penalty in the future on the island of Kauai.

The new traffic code, adopted recently, was revised to include a clause covering "speed contests" that applies as much to one automobile as to two or three.

In other words, a motorist can race with himself. But if he does so, he'll risk a $1,000 fine or one year in the county jail or both for "excessive revving up of engines followed by screeching of tires, jack rabbit or quick starts."

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE
My husband travels a lot and I have always disliked being alone at night.
So I would feel safer, he went to a hardware store to buy an extra lock for our sliding glass door that opens onto the patio. The clerk told him he didn't have a lock that could be used on that type door. But he did tell him how to solve the problem.

He told my husband to lay a broom handle or stick down and measure the distance of the track between the wall and the sliding door when it was closed. Then cut to fit. When this is placed in the track, the door could not be moved. He did and it sure worked.

I was so thrilled that I just had to write and let others know of this terrific hint.
B. L.

Hon, you're just as right as you can be! I know—we tried it, using wall molding. Works like a charm.
Heloise

DEAR HELOISE
I learned a valuable hint when a car door was slammed into the side of my car.
The other car was painted white and left a noticeable mark on the dark blue finish of my car. (Fortunately, it wasn't dented.)

The white mark, as well as a green smear on the front fender, was completely removed by a vigorous application of silver polish. The original finish was not damaged or harmed in any way and no trace remains of the paint smears.
Anyone having this problem might give it a try. It worked for me.
Lou

leum jelly on each side of the hinge, worked the door back and forth a few times, and the noise stopped almost instantly.
Rose DeVincent

DEAR HELOISE.
I read the hint in your column about using hair spray to relax a permanent that comes out too curly. As an ex-beautician, I would like to tell you how I solved this problem. I just took some of the waving solution and rubbed it through the hair and combed immediately. Then shampooed. It worked every time.
As a matter of fact, the entire permanent can be taken out if the solution is left on about 10 minutes; then shampooed. But if the hair is too curly in spots, just apply the solution to those places only.

This same procedure can be done when one has naturally curly hair and wants to relax the curl a little.
Retired Beautician

Thanks, Shug, for cluing us in on your secret.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE.
Today I can't seem to get anything done.
I guess I have spring fever. But I don't have any spring . . .
Mother

DEAR HELOISE:
I made tops for playsuits out of my small daughter's outgrown dresses. I ripped the sleeves and collars out and bound the edges in matching bias tape. Makes a cute outfit and she is getting additional wear from these dresses.
Theresa Tannert

DEAR HELOISE.
I put up an adjustable ironing board in our guest room. Sure makes a dandy substitute luggage rack.

Ludlow News

The annual meeting of Ludlow Community Association was held Wednesday, May 15 at DeForest Pavilion in Wildcat Park with 18 in attendance and Enoch Nelson president, presiding. Reports were made by the secretary Leo Morelli and the treasurer, Virgil Nelson. Auditors were Clyde Gilfert, Ernest Swanson and John G. Johnson. Homer Gilfert was re-elected as director for another five years.

The president reported all that had been done in 1967 including new drinking fountains, new fly-proof garbage containers, interior of De Forest Pavilion painted, all outhouses screened, many decayed trees removed and picnic tables repaired. Lack of swimming is a big disappointment. The Sanitation Department of Pennsylvania closed the swimming pool last year due to contamination from sources above Wildcat which must be eliminated before swimming can be enjoyed at Wildcat Park. Tests are being made again this week by state officials who are demanding individual owners attend to sources of contamination which is a law. A public pool such as Wildcat Park pool cannot be operated without a state permit. Wildcat Park will open as usual on Memorial Day to the general public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily to remain open through Sunday September 15. All reservations should be made through Mrs. Virgil Nelson, telephone 4231 or by mail address to Church Street, Ludlow. At the conclusion of the meeting, the board of directors held their re-election with Enoch Nelson, president. Ward Anderson as vice president Leo Morelli, secretary and Homer

Gilfert as director and Mrs. Mildred Nelson as treasurer. The Ludlow Study Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Larson Monday evening. Mrs. Frank Elge presided at the business session. The program was presented by Mrs. Madge Connelly using for the topic the story of Thomas Jefferson which was most interesting. Dessert was served by the hostess Mrs. Lawrence Larson. The June meeting of the LCW will have as guest speaker Mrs. Ann Blair social worker at Warren State Hospital. Hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Olson and Mrs. Enoch Nelson. Mrs. Wade

Cochran will be program chairman. Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Larson were: Mr. and Mrs. Everett Larson of Corning, N.Y. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Larson and children of Warren. Mrs. Beulah Carlson and Howard Preston, spent the weekend in Erie at the home of their brother Mr. and Mrs. Ben Preston. Mrs. Anna Bergquist and daughter Miss Norma Bergquist, returned home Saturday after spending a weeks vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Bergquist in Fairport, N.Y. Miss Myrtle Johnson, Emmet

Johnson and Roy Davidson were guests last Sunday at a birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lubold in Warren observing the birthday of Mrs. Lubold. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Early of Ann Arbor, Michigan, were Ludlow visitors on Wednesday. Mrs. Early is a niece of the late Okey Norlin. The Priscilla Unit of Moriah Church met at the home of Mrs. Enoch Nelson Wednesday afternoon. Coffee and dessert was served before the meeting; Miss Tillie Olson is leader of the Bible Study. The Kane area has received another high honor in Penn State University athletic circles with the selection of a former Kane High football star, John Kulka, as the 1968 offensive team captain at Penn State. Kulka's selection was announced at the annual banquet at Penn State Saturday night honoring the great 1967 Penn State team, Mike Reid of Altoona, a middle linebacker and tackle Steve Smeay, Johnstown, will be Penn State's defensive co-captains. Three Kane High graduates were in the starting line-up Saturday in the Blue-White game marking the end of Penn State's spring football practice. Kulka as offensive center, Dave Rakleicki as an offensive guard and George Kulka as a defensive end.

The Kulkas are from Ludlow, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Kulka Sr. Rakleicki is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rakleicki of West Kane. Mr. and Mrs. John Kulka and Basil Kulka of Sheffield attended the banquet at Penn State. It was quite a surprise both to the parents and to John Kulka when it was announced that he was selected. Many awards were given to the different players of the team. Mrs. Millie Ray, returned home to Ludlow Sunday after having been with her children in Oregon, California and Colorado since the death of her husband Walter Ray January 30, 1968.

Public Employees Must Be Militant State Council President Declares

GREENSBURG—"Public employees must become more militant in Pennsylvania if they are to remove themselves from the second class citizenship which has been bestowed upon them over the years," Jack A. Henry, president of the Pennsylvania State Employees Council, said Monday.

Speaking at the annual dinner of Local 1010 of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees (AFL-CIO) and employees of the Westmoreland County Department of Public Assistance, he said the unilateral decisions on working conditions and such in Pennsylvania public employment must go.

"These conditions have likened Pennsylvania to Mississippi and a large industrial state such as Pennsylvania has the ability and must be forced to move ahead," he said. "Respectable labor-management relationships must be achieved."

Henry called for enactment of either Senate Bill No. 1068 or House Bill No. 1584, extending provisions of the Labor Relations Act to public employees in Pennsylvania.

He stated that, contrary to the opinions of many, most strikes among public employees have not been over wages but due to lack of recognition and proper collective bargaining procedures—the disaster in Memphis, probably being the most known, demonstrated very effectively the uselessness and the fruitlessness of denying these items to public employees. Recognition, collective bargaining, payroll deduction of union dues, representation, are now available to all public employees of Memphis, but at what a senseless cost they were attained, he declared.

"Our own Council here in Pennsylvania has 'begged' for years for improvements in the labor-management relationships for public employees, he stated. "We have 'begged' for working conditions similar to those in the Federal government and the private sector of the economy."

"What results have been obtained? Henry asked. Are the public employees in Pennsylvania going to be content with this continual, unsuccessful begging or will they become more militant in their efforts to obtain some measure of success?"

Henry pointed to the Council's legislative program, stating "that out of thirty bills submitted to the Legislature in 1967 only one small bill was passed but vetoed by the Governor because the computers could not handle payroll deduction of credit union savings for the employees."

"In 1968 already two of our proposals have been scrapped in favor of funds for the expected increase for teachers," Henry said. "During this period nothing has been forthcoming toward needed improvements from the administration except that anything with a cost must be considered out. It would seem that state employees should take a lesson from the teachers and possibly call upon Harrisburg as they did on this past March 4."

"I can assure you Council is giving serious consideration to such," Henry concluded.

UNINVITED DINNER GUESTS

This small kitten doesn't have to guess who's coming to dinner—she already knows from past experience. When the family pets of Mrs. Johnnie Sandlin of Miami, Fla., are fed every evening, upward to a dozen toads join in the handout. The kitten doesn't mind until the toads jump into the food dish.

Government Rests Its Case Against Dr. Benjamin Spock

BOSTON (AP)—The government rested its case against Dr. Benjamin Spock and four anti-war associates Tuesday after dramatically bringing a youthful draft resister face to face with an all-male jury at the pediatrician's federal conspiracy trial.

Leonard Boudin, Spock's attorney, declined to say whether he would put the physician on the witness stand.

Spock, 65, is on trial with Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a New York writer, and teacher; Marcus Raskin, 33, a Washington research director; and Michael Ferber, 23, a graduate student at Harvard.

They are charged with conspiring to counsel and abet young Americans to evade the draft, a federal crime carrying a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The government sought through witnesses Tuesday to support its claim that draft cards were collected during a rally Oct. 16, 1967, at Arlington Street Unitarian-Universal Church in Boston, and were turned in four days later at an antidraft rally at the Justice Department in Washington.

Coffin and Ferber were at the church demonstration and all five defendants were at the Washington rally.

A highlight in the seven-day-old trial came with Mrs. June Harmon on the witness stand for the government. A trim brunette, she is executive secretary of Local Draft Board 6 in Burlington, N.J.

She identified a charred draft card as belonging to Stanley N. Griffith, a registrant of the board. She also identified him as the youth whom a photograph showed holding a card in the direction of a lighted candle at the Boston church.

Suddenly, Asst. U.S. Atty. John Wall motioned in the direction of the courtroom door. An attendant brought in a neatly dressed youth and escorted him to the edge of the jury box.

"Do you know this man?" asked Judge Francis J.W. Ford. "Yes," Mrs. Harmon said. "Who is he?"

"Stanley Griffith," she replied.

As swiftly as he was brought in, Griffith was whisked out again.

With the conclusion of the government's case, the defense offered routine motions for dismissal of the charges or a directed verdict of acquittal. Attorneys said these were denied by Judge Ford in a conference in his chambers.

TOUCHDOWN OR BUST

NEW YORK — In most disputes between labor and management, the sympathies of the average working stiff are normally with the downtrodden masses against the princes of privilege. But it is hardly likely that the demands the players have made to the owners in the National Football League will touch off any riotous demonstrations of support from the common man because the ordinary citizen could not obtain in a lifetime the fancy salaries and even fancier pension provisions the players already have secured.

The gridiron operatives have demanded a minimum salary of $15,000 a year, a unilateral deposit of another $3,500,000 by the owners in the pension fund and a $500 payment to each player for each pre-season exhibition game. All three demands have been refused by the owners, who are running a bit scared because the merger of the N.F.L. with the American Football League is less than two years away and none can begin to estimate how this will affect every phase of their operation, including the possibility of being forced to function with reduced income.

The first president of the players' association was Kyle Rote, then captain of the New York Giants. If his leanings still are toward the athletes, he has been apart from the situation long enough to view matters with total objectivity. "It's the timing of these demands that disturbs me," he said today. "The players have made tremendous progress since I first had a hand in things and additional progress still can be made. But I feel that there must be a reasonable appreciation of the complexities of the merger. A couple of years more is not too long to wait and the problems attendant on the merger are much too involved."

"The N.F.L. Pension Plan is far better than the A.F.L. one and they must be brought up to parity because interleague trading will bring players from one league to another. It would be too great a burden on the A.F.L. to expect it to bring its plan up to the other overnight. The proper time for player demands is not now but after the two leagues have become one and have a truer understanding of what they can or cannot afford."

Surveys of the financial standings of 16 N.F.L. teams reveals that there are five haves, five have-nots and six in-betweens. The granting of the player demands would plunge the have-nots into the red, and topple the in-betweens. The $500 exhibition game salary, for instance, would add $135,000 to operating costs, thereby wiping out the have-nots. The change on owner pension contributions would do the same.

The $15,000 minimum salary is academic because virtually no player gets that low a wage, presuming that 15 grand rates the description of "low." One guy who must be shaken by the $15,000 minimum is United States Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White. As Whizzer White he once received the supposedly fantastic salary of $15,000 from Art Rooney at Pittsburgh, at least three times the going rate of that era. He was a wondrous halfback and the league's leading ground-gainer. Now interior linemen get more.

The Giant payroll, for instance, has moved upward with such astronomical speed that it now has reached $1.4 million per annum. Others are as high or higher. The alarming thing, according to one owner, is that all are reaching the point of no return.

"Most teams in the N.F.L.," he said, "play to capacity. This places a ceiling on our income and the floor is starting to approach the ceiling. Maybe you'll find it amusing -- I don't -- but since the common draft supposedly eliminated wild bonus bidding and levelled off salaries, our payroll has gone up 20 per cent."

The average salary for the players is $25,000 a year but it's the pension which lifts them far above the common man. They contribute not a pfennig toward it -- baseball players do -- and the fund has not been on its actuarial basis for as long as its diamond counterpart.

Yet the pay-off will keep the football men off the relief rolls at the age of 65. Here's the breakdown on the two comparable pension systems. For 5-year men it will be $500 monthly for football and $643 for baseball; for 10-year men it will be $775 and $1,288 and for 15-year men it will be $990 and $1,387. Baseball also has variables which can raise all categories even higher. They tell of one baseball trainer, salary $11,000 a year, who retired on an $18,000 pension.

Perhaps the gridiron game, aided by television loot, has gone over the hump and never can return to the grubstake years that the newly retired George Halas knew when he first invented the Chicago Bears. But too many owners went through too many worrisome seasons to rush into new commitments with the players, especially since they have not the foggiest idea what the merger will do to their revenues. Each N.F.L. owner fears that it will mean a reduction.

The players have sought a touchdown-or-bust attack. Their strategic concepts may be perfect. It's the timing that's wrong.

Blackmer Favored to Win Stateline Hyle Russell Memorial Race Tonight

By DAN PRATZ

The Hyle Russell Memorial Trophy Race for this evening at Stateline Speedway appears to be the meat for Ronnie Blackmer to sink his teeth into to win himself the first big, 50-lap, feature race this season. Blackmer will be favored over a field of 35-plus late model drivers. The Youngsville "ace" is most likely to win after his performance of the last week which includes two of the three late model victories and all three of the sportsmen feature wins in the two circuit tracks, Stateline and Eriez.

Included in the 50-lap feature program will be thirteen other races highlighted by the Hooligan and Sportsmen features. The Hooligan class proved interesting the first week giving the crowd several thrills with everything from "wrong way" driving to "chills and spills" with roll-overs. Bob Patch has proven to be tops in this class as he captured the feature last Wednesday night and also won at Eriez Sunday night. Jon Weidmeyer now stands as Patch's only competition after taking the Hooligan win from Patch on Saturday night.

Blackmer also reigns as king of the Sportsmen division capturing all three features in the first week of racing. Contenders in this class still appear to be getting used to their new autos. Lead-foot Blackmer however has no trouble in keeping his car on the track and out of the mixups. Chuck Proku of Warren appears to be giving the Youngsville pilot a run for the money. Lyle Brown, Skip Furlow, and Jim Ruhlman also have the same idea but they all need a couple more races before they'll take the risk of putting their car out of commission just to win a feature.

Race time for tonight is set at 8:30 with a $3,000 purse offered to the drivers which should draw the largest field of cars so far this year. Gates open at 6:30 p.m. All seats are on a first come, first serve basis.

Twins Drop Indians 3-1

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Twins got their only three hits of the game in a three-run first inning and went on to beat Cleveland 3-1 Tuesday night, snapping a four-game losing streak.

The first four Minnesota batters reached base against Sonny Siebert, 6-3.

John Roseboro doubled and scored on Rod Carew's single.

Harmon Killebrew walked before Tony Oliva doubled to score.

Carew, Killebrew then scored on Rich Reese's sacrifice fly.

Siebert and Bill Rohr, who relieved in the seventh, held the Twins hitless the rest of the way.

Blair's HR Tops Sox

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Paul Blair tagged a leadoff homer in the 10th inning and the Baltimore Orioles trimmed the Chicago White Sox 3-2 Tuesday night.

The game, played at Milwaukee, attracted 18,784 fans.

Blair connected against veteran Hoyt Wilhelm, who had taken over in the ninth for Tommy John, the White Sox' starter. It was his second homer.

John, who allowed only two hits in eight innings, strained a hamstring muscle in his right leg when he fell and rolled over at first base, attempting to avoid a tag by Boog Powell.

National League

Maloney Tosses 1-Hitter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jim Maloney fired a one-hitter and Alex Johnson batted in four runs, keying three Cincinnati rallies, as the Reds blanked Los Angeles 7-0 Tuesday night.

Maloney, 4-3, struck out 10 and held the Dodgers hitless through the first 4-2-3 innings. He retired the first nine batters he faced and yielded a walk to Wes Parker with none out in the fourth to give the Dodgers their first base runner. Zolo Versailles' fifth inning single was Los Angeles' only hit.

Astros Take Houston

ATLANTA (AP) — Pat Jarvis pitched a four-hitter and Atlanta defeated Houston 3-1 Tuesday night.

The Braves scored all their runs in the fourth inning.

Pat Jarvis' shot came after Danny Cater was hit by a pitch and was the first homer with a man on to be hit in the Oakland Coliseum. The previous 21 homers in 23 games came with the bases empty.

Detroit was leading the California Angels, 4 to 1 after three innings.

Hot Stove League

Barnhart-Davis Win

Barnhart-Davis beat Community Consumer, 11 to 6, Norman Most of BD hit a triple. Most and Jay Duell pitched for the winners.

Weather Plays Havoc With Sports

The elements conspired against Warren sports Tuesday night, as the all-day rain restricted local activity to indoor sports like reading, watching television and playing pool.

The Hot Stove League, Slo-Pitch and fast pitch softball, and a girls' track meet at Eisenhower High School fell victims to the weather.

A full slate in most leagues is planned for today, to beat the Memorial Day holiday. The track meet, the Second Annual Girls' Invitational has been re-scheduled for 3:45 p.m. today.

Rain, mostly across the northeast and midwest of the country, has affected the national sports picture as well. Major League baseball games in New York City, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh were called off during the day.

Mud and rain were the order of the day in Indianapolis, where racers, racing fans and concessionaires are converging on the Memorial Day 500 Race.

JUAN POSES FOR HIS PORTRAIT

Juan Marichal, ace righthander of the San Francisco Giants pitching staff, poses for his portrait while visiting an Atlanta OEO office. LeRoy Neiman, the man with the brush, says he paints the world's "beautiful people." Marichal was reported a big drawing card for the youngsters who also got a free art lesson.

Iron Ruler Tries Again In $100,000 Jersey Derby

Next to Peter Fuller's Dancer's Image, it would be hard to select a thoroughbred who has had more trouble winning a big race, Iron Ruler's problems go back to his 2-year-old days. He was second in the rich Garden State stakes last fall. Yowell says he would have won if he hadn't swerved in the stretch when he saw the band in the infield.

This year, Iron Ruler was first in the Flamingo, but didn't win. He was disqualified for bearing in on Forward Pass and placed second. He was second to Forward Pass in the Florida Derby and chased Dancer's Image home in the Wood Memorial. Yowell is beginning to wonder if his speedy colt is destined always to be an "almost."

Yowell, who trains Iron Ruler for Peter Kissel's October House Farm, notes Iron

Ruler has run only two poor races in his career, a close third in his first start, and a dismal 10th in the Kentucky Derby.

Yowell was in a state of shock after Iron Ruler's performance in the run for the roses. "If he ran and got beat, okay," said Yowell as he watched one of his horses run at Garden State. "But he didn't even run. He had no excuses. He was and is fine physically. Nobody knows what happened to him."

The trainer was so disgusted he decided against running the October House horse in the Preakness.

Jim Dooley Inherits Job As Chicago Bears Coach

CHICAGO (AP) — Venerable George Halas of the Chicago Bears, one day after his surprising retirement as head coach, named his No. 1 assistant, Jim Dooley, as his successor Tuesday.

The 73-year-old Halas, owner of the Bears since the National Football League inception in 1920, said Dooley, 38, was given a multi-year contract to direct the Bears, the club Halas had coached 39 years.

Dooley, a member of the Bears 16 years as a player and assistant coach, said he planned no changes in the seven-member staff he inherited from Halas.

At an elaborate news conference attended by the entire Bear organization and several former Bear stars, Dooley asserted: "It will be a difficult task to follow one of the greatest pro football men of our time."

"I have learned my lesson well under coach Halas," said Dooley. "I can assure you the Halas philosophy and doctrine will be continued at Wrigley Field. I consider this the greatest honor of my life."

Dooley, a former Miami of Florida star, became an heir apparent to the top Bear coaching spot two years ago when he replaced George Allen as the No. 1 defensive coach.

Allen, then considered Halas' first assistant, left the Bears under a court-challenged protest by Halas to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams in 1966.

Dooley, who had a lesser coaching responsibility since he quit as a star pass receiver for the Bears in 1962, succeeded Allen as defensive coach and immediately moved to the fore as Papa Bear's top aide.

He introduced such defensive tactics as flip-flopping tackles, and last year made the NFL take notice with his "Dooley shift" in which a fifth defensive back was used instead of a linebacker in long passing situations.

In February Dooley was named the No. 1 offensive coach and was replaced as defensive unit leader by 37-year-old Joe Fortunato, former star Bear linebacker.

Thad Spencer Stopped By Leotis Martin

LONDON (AP) — Leotis Martin of Philadelphia floored Thad Spencer twice and stopped the San Francisco heavyweight at 2:28 of the ninth round of a 10-round bout Tuesday night.

It was a rare boxing event for England, a main bout between two Americans. Both had been beaten in the eight-man elimination heavyweight tournament, backed by the World Boxing Association, that was won by Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky.

Americans Win In Paris Tennis

PARIS (AP) — Allen Fox of Hollywood, Calif., and a pair of U.S. women amateurs, Nancy Richey and Julie Heldman, won opening Matches Tuesday in the strike-plagued Paris Open Tennis Championships.

Tournament officials postponed some first round matches until Wednesday because of the inability of players to reach the scene.

Air and train traffic into the city was at a standstill. Even those able to reach Paris found it difficult to get to the Roland Garros courts because there was no gasoline.

Most of the favored pros, including top-seeded Rod Laver and Ken Rosewall, were on hand. A prominent absentee was Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles, who still hadn't made it.

Fox, a 5-foot-8, 165-pound retriever who is eighth ranked among U.S. amateurs, made his debut by defeating Alfredo Acuna of Peru 6-2, 6-1, 6-0. The American scrambled all over the court and won by keeping the ball in play, forcing his foe into errors.

Fox is not regarded as a serious threat to the hardened pros, who dominate the seeded list.

Miss Richey, from San Angelo, Tex., ranked No. 2 in the 1967 American women's rankings, breezed into the second round with a 6-0, 6-2 triumph over Maria Christina Borda Diaz, a 16-year-old Brazilian.

Miss Heldman, of New York, turned back Patricia Montano of Mexico 6-2, 6-0.

Miss Richey is rated one of the chief threats to Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., who won every major women's title before turning pro in April.

The first American was eliminated when Norman Perry of Los Angeles bowed to Pierre Darmon of France 6-2, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

SAND WEDGE BEST FOR SHALLOW CUTS

Golf clubs are designed for specific purposes. The pitching wedge is ideal for playing out of deep rough; the sand wedge is best out of sand.

In the illustrations, we see the differences between a regular 9-iron (illustration #1), a pitching wedge (illustration #2), and a sand wedge (illustration #3).

Note that the loft increases as you move from 9-iron to pitching wedge to sand wedge. Also the over-all weight of the clubhead increases.

But the most subtle—and important — change is in the amount of the club's sole that hangs below horizontal. Note that, in the 9-iron, the sole line is about 2 degrees above horizontal. In the pitching wedge, this line is 0-5 degrees below horizontal; 3-10 degrees below in the sand wedge.

The farther the sole line runs below horizontal, the more shallow will be the cut of turf or sand that the club will take.

Great Kinzua Dam Water Skiing Tourney Planned for Warren

The Great Kinzua Dam Championship Water Skiing tournament, conducted by the Keystone State Water Ski Federation and the Sandy Lake Water Ski Club, will be held June 29 and 30 on the Allegheny River in downtown Warren.

According to an announcement made Tuesday by Warren Jaycees, the tournament, which will be held in conjunction with the Jaycee sponsored Fourth of July celebration, will include trick skiing and jumping. Winning contestants in the tournament will qualify for the National competition.

In view of the expressed popularity of the water ski show conducted last year during the Independence Day celebration some 100 persons are expected to take part in the tournament planned for this year.

Last year's water ski program was largely the work and the responsibility of the Sandy Lake Water Ski Club. This year local residents are being urged to take part in the program and in the tournament.

Lotus Turbines Look Like Class of Indy 500 Field

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Drivers of three controversial Lotus turbine cars finally got to shake down new suspension systems Tuesday and again looked like the class of the field for Thursday's 500-mile race as they purred around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

A test period for all 33 qualified cars was interrupted repeatedly by rain.

Officials of the sanctioning U.S. Auto Club ordered Lotus builder Colin Chapman of England on May 11 to replace the suspensions with an alloy steel, SAE 4130, specified in USAC rules.

Chapman had used an aircraft-type steel which USAC called mild steel. His Lotuses have won two world championships and a first and two seconds at Indianapolis with mild steel suspensions.

USAC permitted Lotus drivers

Bob Leonard, Graham Hill and Art Pollard to qualify with the old suspensions but ordered the parts replaced before the race proper. Leonard and Hill qualified 1-2 for the lineup at record speeds and Pollard will start 11th.

The sanctioning club made a statement that it wasn't saying the Lotus suspensions were unsafe but they simply did not comply with the rules.

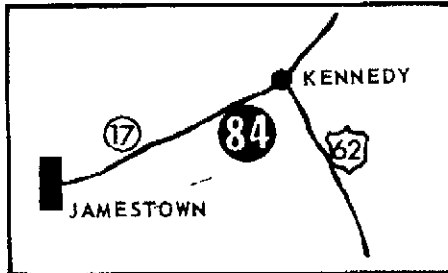

FLYING HIGH OVER WARREN

A pair of skis, a kite and a motorboat are all the equipment needed to fly high over Warren. As long as the boat goes fast enough, the kite catches enough breeze, and the skier's nerve holds out, a pleasant journey is assured. The skier shown was about 75 feet in the air over Pennsylvania ave. when the picture was snapped by telephoto lens. Skiers such as the one shown will be a feature of the Great Kinzua Dam Championships Water Ski Tournament to be held June 29 and 30 in Warren. The tourney will be held as part of the Warren Jaycees Fourth of July celebration. (Photo by Mahan)

WSH Farm Operations Provide 'Substantial Financial Contribution'

By BETTY RICE
Dr. Thomas W. Georges Jr., secretary of public welfare, on March 18, decided to phase out all of the farming, dairy, beef and hog raising operations at Pennsylvania's 16 mental hospitals, including Warren State Hospital, by January 1, 1969.

Legislative Voting Record

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)
HARRISBURG — This is the voting record of area Senator Richard C. Frame, Franklin, during the past week of May 20th on major legislation acted upon in the State Senate (the House of Representatives was not in session during the week):
S-1280 (passed) — Amending the "Penal Code" by increasing the penalties for giving, turn in, raising or causing a false fire alarm. (Frame-Yes);
S-1376 (passed) — Make it a felony to interfere with law enforcement or fire fighting personnel or equipment or to endanger the lives of such personnel or others during riotous or tumultuous conditions. (Frame-Yes);
S-1377 (passed) — Amend the "Penal Code" by making the unlawful possession of a gun a felony. (Frame-Yes);
S-1442 (passed) — Extend protective rights granted National Guard personnel or Reserve personnel in relation to their employment status to include private employers and prohibiting discrimination in employment. (Frame-Yes);
H-207 (Joint House-Senate Conference Committee report passed) — Proposing creation of a 12-member "Pennsylvania Commission for Legislative Modernization", to recommend legislative reforms to the General Assembly by December 1. (Frame-Yes);
H-1052 (Joint House-Senate Conference Committee report passed) — Prohibit automobile insurance companies from arbitrarily cancelling insurance coverage for reasons of race, national origin, sex, profession, etc. (Frame-Yes);
H-1124 (passed) — Designating March 21 of each year as "Bird Day", urging residents "to devote a part of this day to the study of birds in order to become more aware of the beauty and usefulness of birds frequenting this Commonwealth". (Frame-Yes);
H-1247 (passed) — Reducing to eighteen years of age the minimum age requirement for persons who may operate a motor bus having a capacity of not more than six persons. (Frame-Yes);
H-1764 (Concurrence in House amendments on recall from the Governor — passed) — Amending the "Pennsylvania Commercial Feed Law" by further defining "facility" and providing for cancellation of registrations, dispositions of revenues and penalties for violations and further regulating inspection fees. (Frame-Yes).

senate May 23 to direct the Joint State Government Commission to make a study of Georges' proposal in nine specified areas.

The executive branch is usually expected to defer action until a related legislative study has been completed.

Georges in a memorandum dated May 10 said "The agricultural and dairy operations are no longer of any significant therapeutic value in the care and treatment of mentally disturbed patients and the positions now utilized in these activities are more urgently needed for patient care."

Dr. Robert Israel, WSH supervisor, said the farm operation there is no longer a vital part of patient therapy since there is now a smaller number interested or specially adapted to it.

Israel added, however, that the farm "still makes a substantial financial contribution."

Burdette Weiler, who has managed the state hospital farm for many years, is one of 18 staff members. Patients who work in the dairy number between 35 and 40 while some 60 others help in the gardens.

The WSH farm embraces about 500 acres and the dairy barn boasts about 150 mature cattle and 100 younger animals. WSH does not raise hogs.

Only one of the 16 mental hospitals show a loss in net savings for the period ending June 30, 1968 with Warren showing $103,718 in net savings. Value of its farm products during that same period is set at $341,994 with $278,720 in deliveries to the kitchen.

Equipment is valued at $76,680; buildings, $426,251; livestock inventory, $70,300; feed and supply inventory, $12,798; total inventory, $586,029. Labor cost is set at $101,822.

From July 1, 1966 to June 30, 1967, WSH farm and livestock deliveries to the kitchen totaled 1,713,167 pounds of milk, 27,810 pounds of beef, 1,405 pounds of veal and 21,282 pounds of apples. Also delivered were 1,009,195 pounds of vegetables such as snap beans, beets, broccoli, and carrots. The number of pounds of cantaloupe totaled 60,350.

In other operations for the year 53 acres yielded 14.2 tons of ensilage corn; 44 acres, 6 tons grass and 109 acres, two tons hay.

An editorial in a Norristown area newspaper, by John C. Calpin, suggests that "at a time when the state is in a real financial crisis and rising expenditures and demands, the department of public welfare is embarking on a rather dubious course" in proposing that these farm operations be phased out.

Calpin writes that reliable estimates place the cost of this shutdown at a "cool $5 million more in the state budget. Instead of saving money, the state will have to pay out more, while allowing valuable farm land to return to turt."

The editorial continues by stating that trustees of Norristown State Hospital are making vigorous protests to Governor Shafer and Secretary Georges and reportedly have the support of State Agriculture Secretary Leland Bull.

One other fact emerges from the statistics—if the milk production is stopped, the institutions may have to go out of state to get the milk they now use or sell. According to Calpin, it is said the supply of milk is so scarce in the state that it cannot keep up with the local supply.

In the co-sponsored senate resolution it is noted the farms are made up of valuable land, buildings, livestock, farm equipment and trained personnel. "The commonwealth could be dealt a severe blow with hasty disposition or non-use of these vital and costly items."

Sen. Lentz quoted a department report's statement that the institutional farm program provided the state with a net savings of almost $1 million in farm products during the fiscal year 1966-67. "The loss of these savings would be made up from taxes," Lentz said. The dairy herd at WSH is one of the finest in the entire area, a reputation it has maintained for many years. The sight of patients at the institution working in the gardens is long familiar to many of the residents.

In the past the hospital entered its cattle in county fairs, emerging with blue ribbons. Eventually the herd was entered for exhibition only and served as an example for other dairy farmers throughout the county.

For the period ending June 30, the WSH farm operation was third in the state in net savings with Polk State School second and Norristown, first. Calpin concludes that "governmental austerity is fine in its place. If it results in additional costs, it would seem to be a mistake."

Lentz's resolution, which was referred to the policymaking rules committee, proposed that the Legislature's research agency make a study of these questions involved in Georges' decision.

—The value of farming and similar activities in the treatment of mentally ill.

—The need for 250 jobs in direct patient-care activities. (Georges stated he wanted to convert approximately 250 of the total 885 positions now required for agricultural and dairy operations to positions in direct support of patient-care activities.)

—The effect of dropping 635 persons employed in farming positions.

—The consequence of a $1 million loss on savings on food purchases at the mental institutions.

—The disposition of valuable farm land and buildings.

—The disposition of high-cost, low resale value farming equipment.

—The disposition of pure-bred registered cattle and other quality animals.

—The possibility of improving services to mental patients and also continuing the farming activities so valuable to the commonwealth.

—Such other problems as the study may reveal.

Warren Rotary Club Wins Three Of Four Annual Service Awards

Warren Rotary Club achieved the distinction of winning three of the four annual service awards for which 43 Rotary Clubs in Rotary District 728 compete each year. It is understood there has been no occasion in recent memory when one club came away with three awards.

Each year an award is given for top achievement in each of four categories of Rotary Club service: club, community, vocational and international. Warren Rotary Club won the awards for community, vocational and international service programs, conferred at the annual conference of Rotary District 728 at Sharon May 24 and 25.

Warren Rotary Club president Henry Powell says the entire credit for this achievement goes to the three chairmen: William Wolfersberger, international; Bob Kusse, vocational; and Dr. John Huey, community.

an ovation at the regular meeting of Warren Rotary at the Blue Manor Monday noon.

The club was represented at the two-day conference by Henry Powell, president; Everett Borg, vice-president; Bob Kusse, vocational service director; and Henry Wuesthoff, past president and member of district international committee.

The program at Monday's meeting was presented by Russ Rohleder, science lecturer for the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. Rohleder discussed the current fantastic developments and research in the field of data processing and data transmission. His lecture was titled "Information on the Move." It demonstrated communications in two newest forms: data processing and data transmission. By Bell Telephone development, information stored by computers anywhere can be directly hooked up to computers anywhere by telephone, which will deliver the information without intermediate steps.

A guest at Monday's Rotary meeting was County Commissioner Tom Donnelly.

Next Monday will mark a formal induction ceremony for all members who have joined the Warren Rotary Club during the past year.

Senate Breaks Logjam On Executive Nominations

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate broke the logjam Tuesday on Gov. Shafer's executive nominations by confirming a score of major appointees, including the long awaited new Horse Racing Commission.

Approved as the state's first flat racing commissioners were: A. Marlyn Moyer Jr. of Trevoise; Roy Wilkinson Jr. of Bellefonte, both Republicans; and Thomas A. Livingston of Pittsburgh, a Democrat.

The vote on all confirmations was 49-0, although it could hardly be construed as being indicative of unanimous support since most of the nominees had been awaiting approval for months.

Other major nominations approved included Raymond Bollinger to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; John Tabor as labor secretary; Robert Johnson to the Milk Control Commission; nine members of the State Board of Education and members to the Science and Engineering Foundation. The Senate vote came two weeks after Shafer sharply tongue-lashed the GOP-controlled chamber for failure to act on the nominations.

Shafer said the Senate's delay in the Horse Racing Commission, for example, precluded any possibility that the newly legalized sport could be started this year, resulting in a revenue loss to the state.

He also said his projection that $8.3 million would be collected in taxes from horse racing by July 1, 1969, also seemed very dubious.

The three new commissioners must now organize a staff and begin the troublesome business of awarding licenses. Their nominations have been pending in the Senate for two months.

Bollinger, Shafer's personnel secretary from Richland, Lebanon County, will replace Democrat Joseph J. Lawler of Jessup in the $15,000 Turnpike post. The political complexion of the commission now becomes four Republicans and one Democrat. Tabor was nominated last

Farmer-Backed Milk Bill Released by House Group

HARRISBURG (AP) — A farmer-backed bill to revise Pennsylvania's much criticized Milk Control Law was released by the House Agriculture Committee Tuesday, but the Shafer administration proposal, preferred by consumer interests, remained bottled up.

The action set the stage for a possible floor confrontation between farmer and consumer forces as backers of the administration measure said they would seek to amend the committee's bill to make it conform with Gov. Shafer's recommendations.

Shafer has proposed that the Depression-spawned law giving the state authority to set minimum milk prices be repealed and replaced with a new statute designed to bring about a reduction of the price of milk at the retail level.

The governor's plan would abolish the present three-member Milk Control Commission and empower the Department of Agriculture, through its secretary and a new bureau, to regulate pricing. A nine-member advisory board would assist the secretary.

The key to the administration measure is that consumer prices would be based on the production costs of the most efficient dealers, rather than a cross-section of all dealers. The House Agriculture Committee bill, sponsored by its chairman, Rep. William H. Ashton, R-Chester, would change the name of the Milk Control Commission to the Milk Marketing Board. It would require that prices be based on the average cost of producing the milk, plus the cost of the container.

In reporting the Ashton bill to the floor, Rep. Kent D. Sheldahl, D-Columbia, rejected consumer arguments that the retail price of milk in Pennsylvania is too high.

"The consumer has been led to believe that the price of milk is much too high, when, in fact, the price of milk in the past 10 years has not increased nearly as much as other prices," Sheldahl said.

"Milk today is one of the greatest values the housewife can buy. However, I do not believe the farmer is getting a fair price for his milk."

House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson Jr., sponsor of the administration bill, said efforts would be made to amend the Ashton measure.

"I do not favor the bill released from committee," Donaldson said. "However, now, at least, we have a bill on the floor. I would hope we could amend it with provisions of the administration proposal."

DEDICATION PREVIEW

Hoping for sunny skies and warm temperatures, representatives of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau Tuesday morning previewed the erection of the three flags to be dedicated Memorial Day. This is the sight which will greet those entering and leaving the community—the King's Colors, the Betsy Ross and the Fleur de Lis of France. After making certain that all was in working order for the ceremonies, LeRoy Schneck, center, Kenneth Stratton, left, and Charles Tranter carefully and properly fold one of the banners. Impressive ceremonies are planned for the occasion Thursday at Crescent Park. The public is invited. (Photos by Mansfield)

Steps Taken To Protect Against Riot Losses

HARRISBURG (AP) — Insurance Commissioner David O. Maxwell disclosed Tuesday that he has taken steps to insure Pennsylvania cities protection against losses caused by rioting or civil disturbances.

In a memorandum to the mayors of 28 Pennsylvania cities, Maxwell said he had denied requests from segments of the insurance industry to insert exclusion clauses in their coverage.

The clauses would have excluded property damage and bodily injury liability coverage resulting from riots, looting, pillaging or strikes.

"Such a blanket exclusion in my opinion is not a constructive approach to the existing situation and is not responsive to the needs of our cities which must have adequate insurance protection," Maxwell wrote the mayors.

He said he had been advised that the city of Washington in western Pennsylvania was requested by an insurance company to sign an endorsement containing an exclusion clause.

Maxwell went on to say that he had rejected requests for authorization to use the exclusion clause submitted by the Insurance Rating Board, the Mutual Insurance Rating Bureau, Multi-Line Insurance Rating Bureau, and the Middle Department Association of Fire Underwriters, all major rating organizations.

Large Turnout Expected For Impressive Ceremonies

The historic flags of the United States, England and France were flown briefly Tuesday afternoon from the newly erected flag poles in Crescent Park in a trial run in preparation for the dedication and raising to tomorrow afternoon at 4:30.

Those who saw the banners were enthusiastic about their beauty and their easy visibility from Pennsylvania avenue and from the Hickory Street bridge.

Officials of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau and the Warren County Historical Society are expecting a large turnout for the impressive ceremonies which begin at 4 p.m. with a band concert by the Beatty Junior High School Band, directed by Richard West.

At 4:30, with William F. Clinger, Jr., presiding, the dedication program will begin with an invocation by the Reverend Norman Smith, assistant pastor, St. Joseph Church and a Hymn by the Sweet Adelines Chorus, directed by Mrs. William Houston.

Following introductions of the visiting dignitaries on the speaker's platform, the presentation of the French Flag will be made by Count Reginald de Warren, French Consul in Philadelphia. The Marcellaise will be sung by the Sweet Adelines as the Marine Color Guard raises the Fleur de Lis to the top of the 70 foot staff.

Eric W. Cook, Her Majesty's

Consul in Cleveland, will then present the King's Color or Union Jack of England and as this is raised, the Beatty Band will play God Save the Queen.

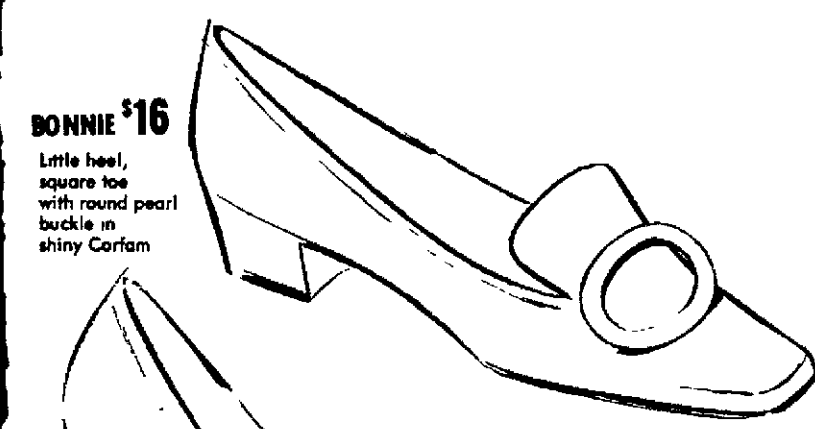

After the song "This is My Country" sung by the Chorus, the main address will be given by the Honorable Joseph S. Clark, U.S. Senator from Pennsylvania. Senator Clark will then present the American Betsy Ross Flag to the Color Guard and the Band will play "The Star Spangled Banner" as it takes its place along side the French and English banners.

The ceremonies will close with a benediction by the Reverend Nelson Beck, pastor, United Presbyterian Church of North Warren.

The Three Flags, representing the three countries which helped settle Northwestern Pennsylvania, will fly night and day throughout the summer season and will be lighted after dark.

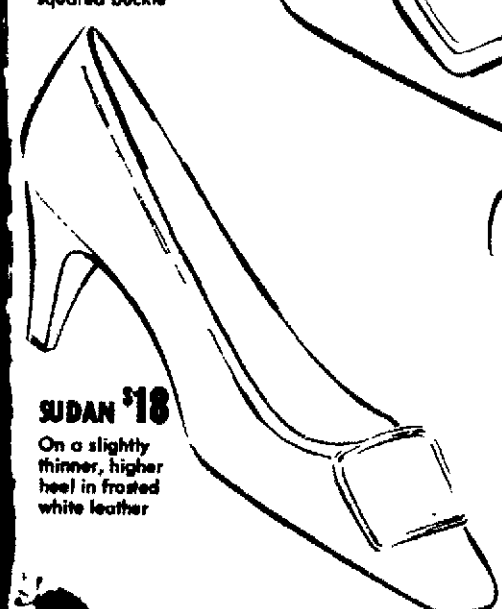

The committee which has worked out details for the project include Mr. Clinger, T. K. Stratton, Ernest C. Miller, Jeremy Fisher, Victor Miller, Gilbert Reier, William Pasquerette, Henry LeMeur, Richard Foster-Pegg, Harold Johnson, W.E. Rice, Robert C. Dilks, Charles R. Tranter, Frank Fago, and W. Leroy Schneck.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My fiancé and I have been planning our wedding for several months. We wanted it to be in June but my mother persuaded us to wait until July and be married — on her 25th wedding anniversary. It sounded like a good idea at the time, but now I'm not so sure.

Last week my mother announced that she has tried on her wedding gown and it still fits perfectly. She wants to wear the gown to my wedding and make it a double ceremony, with her and Dad repeating the vows.

I didn't know what to make of it, but Mother assured me that many couples "remarry" for sentimental reasons and she thinks it would be a truly moving experience for us all. Dad was not very pleased but usually he goes along with what Mom wants. My fiancé doesn't like the idea and has said so. When I told Mother, she accused me of being selfish and not wanting to share the spotlight. If I am wrong please tell me and I will try to make my fiancé see it that way. Right now I am so heartsick I'm ready to call off the wedding and elope. — CONFUSED GIRL

DEAR GIRL: A bride should not have to share the spotlight with anyone. Discuss this problem with your clergyman and ask him to speak to your mother. If your mother wants to "remarry" your father for sentimental reasons, she should do it on her own time and not horn in on your day. + + +

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I lost my husband two years ago and have been seeing a very interesting man who joined the firm where I am a private secretary. Aaron is excellent company, shares my interests and we are of the same religion. He never married and seems to enjoy my two teen-age children a great deal. Aaron has asked me to marry him but something is holding me back.

He seems to be terribly hung up on superstition. He has turned around in the middle of the block to prevent a black cat from crossing his path. He will walk across a street to avoid stepping under a ladder. When he drops the salt and pepper shaker he always tosses a few grains over his left shoulder. Recently he passed up a choice apartment because it was on the 13th floor. Last night we were walking down the street and Aaron was careful not to step on a crack because it would "break his mother's back." (His mother died five years ago.)

Do you think this indicates an unstable mind or is it just ignorance? — GERALDINE OF BILLINGS

DEAR GERALDINE: Superstition bears no relation to stability or intelligence. From your description he sounds like a promising prospect. Knock on wood. + + +

Confidential to Taken Advantage Of Once Too Often: Who raised these vegetables? Your children are disgustingly selfish and lazy because they have never had to accept any responsibility. Your husband is a pretty good cleaner, too. So long as you are willing to carry the whole load for these slobs they will be happy to let you do it. + + +

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Opening lead King of ♠ West's preemptive activities during the auction drove North and South to a slam contract which they might not have reached on their own initiative.

When West leaped to three hearts, North was pushed into the four level to show his club suit. After South's rebid of four spades, North felt that he had not yet done justice to his holding, so he made a slam try by overbidding the game.

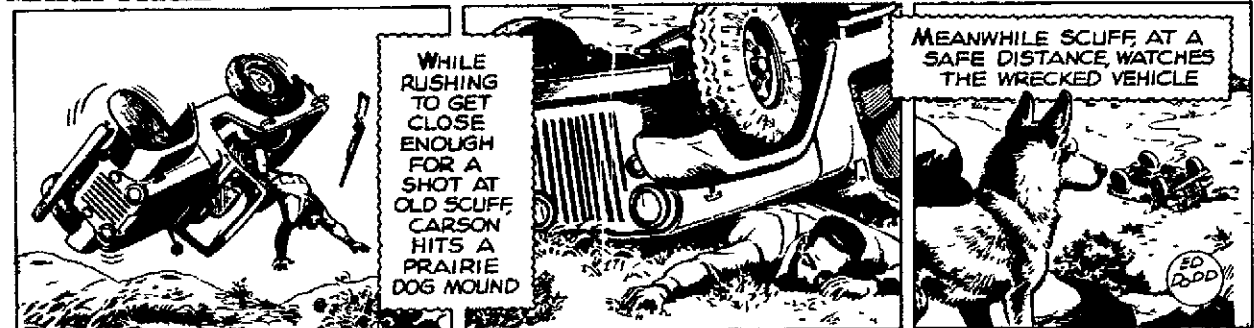

South interpreted the five spade call as a request for controls in the other two suits and, since he held both red aces, he proceeded to six spades.

West opened the king of hearts which was taken by declarer's ace. Although the opening lead had exposed him to the loss of a heart trick with the ace of clubs still to be dislodged, declarer's outlook was not altogether hopeless. If West held a seven card suit which appeared likely from his vulnerable preemptive bid, then East would have only a singleton heart. If the latter also holds the ace of clubs, South has time to develop that suit for an eventual heart discard, for East will be unable to reach his partner when he obtains the lead.

Inasmuch as declarer had no recourse but to proceed on this favorable assumption, he planned his campaign so as to utilize every one of dummy's entries for the establishment of the clubs. The queen of spades was cashed followed by a spade to the king. A club was led toward the closed hand and when East ducked, declarer's queen held the trick. A club was returned and the ten was put in from dummy losing to East's jack.

East exited with his last trump to North's ace. A club was ruffed by declarer and dummy was reentered with the queen of diamonds in order to trump out East's remaining club. The king of diamonds now provided access to the established eight of clubs on which declarer discarded his losing heart. His only loser was a club trick.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—If you must speak quickly, be tactful, nevertheless. A tendency toward brusqueness could cause misunderstandings. Planetary influences generally favorable.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Prevent errors, great or small; aim for better cooperation, and tend first things FIRST, not just those that "appeal." Due restraint in pleasures!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Mercury, favorable, now stimulates unusual enterprises, but do not overlook "minor" essentials in undertaking them. A new touch could brighten everyday matters.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Avoid working at cross-purposes with others when you could be either in agreement or at least on a live-and-let-live basis. Benefits can accrue through careful manner, good will.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—If the way you have been handling matters has not been as result-getting as possible, take time to study another procedure, try another tack. There is always more than one way to achieve even the "impossible."

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—One of those mixed days that can bring both the ordinary and the unusual. Collect some expert opinions for consideration. New advantages in the offing.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—A good period for expanding your interests, but be astute in undertaking new enterprises. Thoroughness, accuracy important.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—Top influences should stimulate you and your interests. Pattern your efforts along lines which have succeeded in the past. Waste no time on non-essentials.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—The position of Jupiter now suggests tight controls on desires, emotions, and all activities. No matter what situations you may face, maintain poise, dignity and a sense of justice.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Much like Sagittarius today. Don't step out first and think afterward. Good will important.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Structure of thoughts, design of plan, and the overall endeavor you put into the day and its work or play will help to net big gains. Stay on the right track.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Abundance in one area and insufficiency elsewhere may be a problem now. New avenues for progress indicated.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with strong vitality and energy. You have the ability to call upon seemingly endless courage and recuperative powers. Don't waste energies or other resources! Education is a boon to your eager mind. You can enjoy both hard work and hard play. Be careful to avoid extremes in both. Your versatility and swift action are notable. Geminians are renowned for great accomplishment in many fields. Birthdate of: Patrick Henry, early Amer. statesman, orator; G. K. Chesterton, Eng. journalist, author; Bob Hope, actor; U.S. Pres. John F. Kennedy.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 By The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

ANOTHER ROYAL MALADY

The United States has a bizarre disorder to thank for the American Revolution. George III, British monarch at that time, was thought to be suffering from a mental disorder. His illness was diagnosed as manic depressive psychosis because of bouts of excitement and depression. The more troublesome and painful symptoms were ignored, but we cannot condemn his physicians, because the malady continues to baffle the medical profession.

The king had porphyria (por-fir-i-a), a disease manifested by overproduction of certain blood or liver pigments. It stems from an inherited defect or from an acquired dysfunction of the involved organs. The excess pigments are eliminated via the kidneys or intestinal tract. During an attack, the urine is colored from deep amber or reddish brown to purple. Changes in color are noted only when the urine is left to stand, explaining why it may escape detection.

Two English physicians, Ida Macalpine and Richard Hunter, traced the hereditary aspects of porphyria from Mary, Queen of Scots, down to two living family members. Their search, covering 13 generations, spanned more than 400 years.

In retrospect, we feel sorry for many rulers who were judged to be insane, or victims of nephritis, gout, or abdominal colic. George III really suffered and more so because he was one of England's dedicated rulers.

Porphyria comes and goes, and between bouts, the individual is free from distress. Although an hereditary condition, acute attacks may be precipitated by sedatives, alcohol, infection, toxic agents, ultraviolet, and exertion. Severe abdominal pains, diarrhea, vomiting, and muscle spasms of the chest develop suddenly. Pain in the limbs, muscular weakness, and transient paralysis may co-exist.

TOMORROW: The Aged Adjustment.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

PAREGORIC FOR BABY

H.B.O. writes: Is it legal for a physician to prescribe paregoric for a mother who uses it to soothe her baby? My dictionary says paregoric is a combination of opium and alcohol, a product which I thought had been outlawed. Is this drug likely to produce a tendency toward opium and/or alcohol addiction?

REPLY: The drug, which is a prescription product, never has been outlawed. Furthermore, it is used frequently in the treatment of diarrhea and is an old remedy often used to soothe a fretful baby.

DIAGNOSIS OF HEPATITIS

A reader writes: What substance in the blood determines the presence of hepatitis?

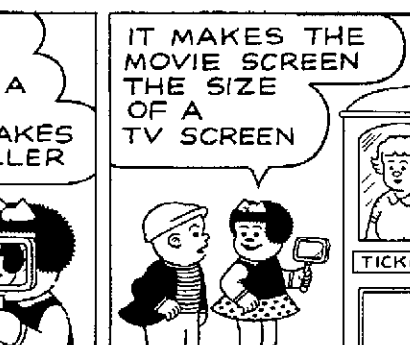

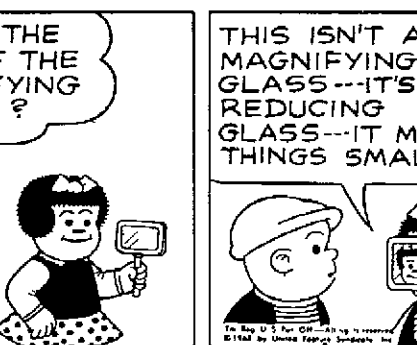

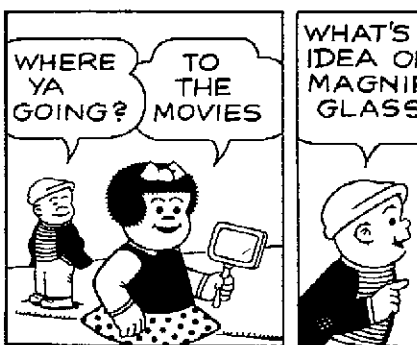

REPLY: Several laboratory tests are used to diagnose viral hepatitis. These procedures demonstrate damage on the inside of the liver. Some tests show excess bile pigment in the blood; others, impaired function of the organ.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT—Inexpensive cuts of meat also are nutritious.

SKATING UP A STORM

Sen. Robert Kennedy took a short break in his campaign schedule, hoping to skate up a storm of votes with his wife Ethel and a small boy who happened by in the Lloyd Center rink in Portland, Ore. Ethel took a tumble during the exercise period; Bobby had hopes he wouldn't do the same thing in the Oregon primary.

Looting and Brick-tossing Spread To Downtown Louisville Area

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sporadic looting and brick-tossing broke out Tuesday in the Negro section of Louisville and spread to the downtown area for the second consecutive day.

Teen-ager Draws Prison Sentence

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A teen-ager drew a 10-to-20-year prison sentence Tuesday for the bayonet-slashing of a man during a fight a year ago. George Elie, 17, of Buffalo, convicted of first-degree manslaughter May 7, was sentenced by Judge Charles J. Caughan of Erie County Court. Elie was accused of killing James H. Jones, 52, also of Buffalo. During a week-long trial, testimony was introduced that Jones was stabbed in the back after becoming involved in a fight with Elie and two other youths. They were not charged and testified against Elie.

to vehicle traffic and riot-trained National Guardsmen were rushed from the troubled West End to prevent brazen rock-tossing and shoplifting.

Mayor Kenneth Schmied also ordered another curfew between 11 p.m. and 5 a.m. The Guardsmen and Louisville police had been concentrated in the West End where roaming bands of youths smashed windows, looted stores and reportedly threatened shopkeepers that the businesses would be set afire.

Several fire alarms were reported. One truck was burned and police arrested a suspect. Several persons were reported injured. One policeman was struck by a brick.

Officials were hopeful that the calm morning would forecast an end to the violence, but the renewed missile-tossing and looting raised fears that nightfall would cause increased turmoil.

Meanwhile a group of white citizens marched on City Hall to protest against the police action during the riots.

Carl Braden, the leader of the march, said he was at the disturbance scene Monday night, "and I assure you police started it." Braden said his group was calling for the immediate withdrawal of the National Guard and the granting of amnesty to all persons arrested during the rioting.

Braden is executive director of the Southern Conference Educational Fund.

Monday's rioting resulted in some 20 injuries and more than 100 persons arrested. Four persons were wounded by gunfire.

The city's top officials were huddled behind closed doors Tuesday to plan strategies for curtailing the racial violence. They were unavailable to comment on Braden's charges.

All days of work were canceled for Louisville's 578 policemen by Chief C.J. Hyde. All police were working 12 hours and those on vacation were contacted and ordered to report for duty.

There are 39 Negroes on the Louisville police force. Bolstering the police were 150 state troopers and 700 Kentucky National Guardsmen mobilized Monday night by Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

An aide to Brig. Gen. William Buster, commanding officer, said some 200 guardsmen were patrolling the restless West End area Tuesday. He said the guardsmen had received riot control training and were issued ammunition prior to their deployment.

The aide declined to comment on whether the soldiers' weapons were loaded and said the troopers had standard orders to fire their weapons only on the order of an officer or in self-defense.

The guard was headquartered at the Albert Brandeis school, which was the only school closed Tuesday because of the disturbances. Other activities in the West End section resumed at normal hours Tuesday.

The outburst Monday night followed a rally called by Negroes to urge the dismissal of policeman accused of brutality.

Lost Diamond In Garbage

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A sparkling stone the size of a pea, buried in a garbage dump, was found by a woman. Mrs. Crawford, a widow from her finger and dropped it into a cleaning house. Later in the day she was frayed. She showed it to garbage men picked it up. And the ring? Well, some "When I noticed it was had done with it," she had it reset when my husband value." Mrs. Crawford phoned it was closed for the week man who has been picking up. As Hamlin led the sobbing decided to make a stab at task. After garbage and machine then covered with Dominic Rossi, the dump truck carrying Mrs. Crawford dumped its load. "I had the operator on the fill from above the garbage operating the machine with description." "And there it was!" she pocketed it was like a miracle. Francelloni took the ring he said. "I don't think it could be the same."

Pentagon Budget Squeeze Delayed Plans for Submarine Rescue System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon budget squeeze has delayed Navy plans to deploy a modern, worldwide submarine rescue system, it was disclosed Tuesday.

"We're caught in the financial squeeze," said Capt. William M.
Nicholson, manager of the Navy's Deep Submergence Systems Project.

Butler Man Charged in Mishap

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — Police charged a suburban Butler man with involuntary manslaughter
Tuesday for the death of a teen-age boy in a car-motorcycle crash.

Police filed the charge against Donald E. Elliott, 37, of Meridian after a coroner's jury recommended Monday night that he be held for the grand jury.

Elliott's car and a motorcycle operated by James M. Mentzer
Jr., 18, of Rt. 3, Butler, collided on a Butler street May 8.
Mentzer died the following day.

Nicholson also said in an interview that complicated technical development work has played a part in the delay in building and deploying six special small rescue submarines capable of saving trapped sailors from depths of 3,500 feet or more.

However, Nicholson said the first of the small rescue subs
"would not have been finished today even under the best conditions." It is "too big a job," he said.

The first of the new breed will not be ready for rescue operations until 1970, a second in 1971 and the four others in the indefinite future.

Nicholson said Defense Department officials denied the Navy $90 million in the new military budget to build the final four boats which would complete the system. He hopes the budget which will go to Congress next January will include it.

Meanwhile, Nicholson said, the Navy has available essentially the same rescue equipment which it used nearly 30 years ago to save 33 sailors from the sunken submarine

Squalus, in 240 feet of water off
New Hampshire.

The Navy engineer said present rescue equipment would have difficulty saving men from the submarine Scorpion if that vessel was located deeper than 300 feet below the surface of the Atlantic.

On Aug. 12, 1966, the Pentagon announced that the Navy planned to have a worldwide submarine rescue capability by 1970. According to Nicholson's projection, only the first of the six rescue vehicles then projected will be ready for use in 1970.

The loss of the atomic-powered submarine Thresher in April 1963 propelled the Navy into a major new effort to modernize its submarine crew rescue gear and technique.

A year after the Thresher was lost, a special Navy study board recommended new undersea craft that could descend to lower depths. It was estimated that the system would cost about $300 million. Nicholson said that figure has at least been doubled, to more than $600 million.

The plan for the full rescue system calls for deploying six, 50-foot submarines around the world, at places where the United States has major operating bases.

Each of the craft would be capable of carrying up to 24 crew men between a stricken submarine and a mother vessel.

Nicholson estimated that the first boat will cost about $34 million—compared with the $2 million which Navy planners first calculated.

OBEY THE LAW

The best way to "Share the Road" is to obey the traffic rules, according to the Pennsylvania Bureau of Traffic Safety. These laws were enacted to reduce traffic conflicts and make the movement of traffic orderly. Remember, obedience to the traffic rules becomes more important as traffic gets heavier.

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL

Sen. Eugene McCarthy paddled his own canoe to a park on the Willamette River to give a campaign address to about 350 people. It was one of many stops made during a busy day of campaigning for the Oregon presidential primary in which he hoped to best Bobby Kennedy in the race for the nomination.

BACK YARD CONFAB

A tent rope serves as a backyard fence for acrobat Adrienne Adair as she exchanges gossip with a trio of Sells and Gray Circus clowns while waiting for her act in the big show. Mile. Adair, like many followers of the big top, comes from a long line of circus performers. She and her friends will appear in Warren with the circus on Monday, June 3. The show will be sponsored by the Warren Moose Lodge. Performances are scheduled for 4 and 8 p.m. at the Warren Airport Show Grounds.

'Fun on Range' To Begin June 3

Pennsylvania Electric Company's "Fun On The Range" will mark its 20th year this summer and approximately 10,000 girls, aged 8 to 12 from 120 towns, are expected to participate in the popular cooking instruction-summer recreation program.

Miss Diane L. Blanset of Johnstown, Penelec's System Home Economics Director, said the weeklong classes, held in conjunction with community recreation programs, will be held between June 3 and August 23 in communities throughout the 33-county area served by Penelec. She noted this summer's expected enrollment is greater than any previous year. "Fun On The Range" began in Towanda in 1949 with 30 girls in the first class. The classes require one-and-a-half to two hours each day, either in the morning or afternoon.

Miss Blanset said 12 Student Home Economics, college girls studying home economics, will be employed to conduct the classes. A schedule indicating the communities in which classes will be held will be announced the first week in June. She indicated that several of the Student Home Economics have taught the classes in past summers.

"Fun On The Range" classes consist of four days of instruction and a special graduation ceremony on the fifth day, to which the girls' parents and friends are invited. During the classroom instruction, the girls are taught the use and care of the electric range and other kitchen appliances and food preparation. This year's graduation ceremonies will feature a 20th birthday theme and special Reddy Kilowatt birthday pins will be presented to the graduates.

Penelec provides the instructors and all food and cookbooks. School officials or local recreation directors usually arrange for the classes to be held in school home economics classrooms or church kitchens and arrange for registration of the youngsters.

Everyday Table Manners

Children who have early and consistent training in table etiquette develop grace and poise that helps them to meet others with self-assurance. Appropriate table manners and service should be practiced daily, at each meal. It's up to parents to set the example to be followed by children.

Those parents who were fortunate enough to grow up in a home where good table manners were practiced daily will find it easy to train their children. Mealtime enjoyment is greater when the whole family is familiar with, and practices good table manners.

If you have questions about your table service and manners, here's a suggestion—take the table service correspondence course from The Pennsylvania State University. Besides teaching table etiquette and service for family and guests, the course describes the selection and care of table linens, silver, glassware, and china. It includes information on stain removal and gives table decorating ideas. How to manage buffet service for a large or small group is explained. Common sense answers to table etiquette questions are given and suggestions for coffee hours and afternoon teas.

Whether you're a bride or a grandmother, you'll find valuable information in the course that can be studied and then filed as reference material.

To own the course on Table Service is simple—put $1.50 in an envelope. Address it to Table Service, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802. Check or money order should be made payable to The Pennsylvania State University.

Paul Bunyan Games To Be Held in Kennedy

Kennedy, N. Y. — The ghost of Paul Bunyan, superman of the logging camps, will be hovering over Kennedy, N. Y. this week. He'll be anxious to see who lays claim to his title as the greatest all around lumberjack of the era.

The legendary Bunyan is certain to be drawn to the Paul Bunyan Games being held May 30th — June 1 by the 84 Lumber Company to celebrate the Grand Opening of their new lumber distribution center in Kennedy.

Although no one is apt to top some of Bunyan's more heroic achievements — like the time he shot ducks that were flying so high in the sky they spoiled before reaching the ground, still the games are designed to test the skill and power of the typical lumberman, with a couple of new additions for the modern, sports minded Bunyan.

The complete schedule of events is as follows:

1. Nail Driving a 30 penny nail into a log in the shortest time.
2. Cross Cut Sawing — one man, sawing through log in shortest time.
3. Log rolling a log 40 feet in the shortest time.
4. Fish-Casting — a test of accuracy with rod & reel.
5. Golf, Hole-In-One Contest — hitting a golf ball closest to the pin.
6. Tobacco Putting for distance.
7. Tobacco Putting for accuracy.

The games will be open to everyone over 18 years of age, and contestants may enter just one event or as many as they choose. However those stalwarts who are desirous of achieving the title of "Paul Bunyan of Chautauqua" — King of the Lumberjacks, must enter and qualify in at least 4 of the events.

The games will start with qualifying rounds in all events on Thursday, May 30, and Friday, May 31, beginning at 10:30 a. m. A special Late-Hour qualifying round has been added from 7 to 9 p. m. Thursday and Friday evening. Prizes will be awarded the top 6 qualifiers each day, and remembrances will be given to all qualifiers.

The finals in all events will be held Saturday, June 1 beginning at 10 a. m. Each winner in a final event will be awarded $25.00. The Mr. Paul Bunyan Title will be awarded the individual who qualifies in four events and compiles the greatest number of points in the finals. Mr. Paul Bunyan, in addition to awards for qualifying, and any money won in finals, will receive a prize of $84.00 plus the right to wear the "Mr. Paul Bunyan" Loggers hat.

All of those who are looking for something new and different in the way of sports and recreation will certainly enjoy the color and the fun of the Paul Bunyan Games. Everyone is invited and if you feel you just weren't cut out to be a Paul Bunyan (who was so quick on his feet that he could blow out the bunkhouse light and be in bed and asleep before the room got dark) you can be sure you'll enjoy watching this unique contest.

Entry blanks are available at the 84 Lumber Co., Route 17, Kennedy, N. Y. Which will be the site of all Games. Bring the whole family for an exciting new kind of entertainment.
